Inquiry Based Learning

The 2nd and 3rd grade Sugar Camp students have been wondering about why things work the way they do. To help in answering their questions, Mrs.

Liebscher and Mrs. Pichowski have started to lead Inquiry Based Learning projects in the classroom to facilitate their learning. This means that students are given an over arching idea to learn about, and they can focus their learning on a specific topic of their choice.

They have been learning about weather and based their first project on a question that they have regarding weather. The students were very engaged and came up with some fascinating questions to research. They were then able to present their findings however they wanted: posters, slideshows, digital posters, diagrams, models...there are endless possibilities. We all learned some new information when they presented the answers they found to their questions. We are all looking forward to our next Inquiry Based Learning Project!

When you are kind to others, it not only changes you, it changes with world.

Early Release Day

Plan ahead for early dismissal on Friday, January 26. Busses will leave Sugar Camp School at 12:45. Please make your childcare plans as needed.

From the Library Shelf...

During these long, dark days of January, it's easy to forget about all of the wonderful and beautiful things that are around us every day. The library recommends a book that will help you do just that: remember the beauty that can be found in the unlikeliest of places. Last Stop on Market Street by: Matt de la Peña is a great story about a young boy who aids his grandmother on a task of hers. He isn't thrilled about it, but learns the value of staying positive and community service. The second and third graders love this story and highly recommend it. Check it out today!

Busy, Busy, Busy!
