

ROBIN REPORT

SUGAR CAMP ELEMENTARY NEWS

There is no doubt fall is upon us. The leaves are turning colors and the sun is setting earlier and earlier. This week, students continued to adjust to the new school year as they worked on several season projects. Take a look below, and as always, let us know if you have any questions.

Kindergarten Stations are Fun!

In Ms. Stefonik's kindergarten class, this second week of school was all about learning routine and exploring different parts of the classroom. Each day, the students work in "stations," which are ways to learn certain skills through small groups. Each station works on a separate task, and when the students complete their stations, they earn classroom choices. Take a look at a few pics here.

Japanese Artist Inspires 4th Grade

Polka dots everywhere — that's the theme of the pumpkins the fourth-grade has been working on in Ms. Wallschlaeger's art class. These creations are inspired by the work of Yayoi Kusama, a Japanese artist whose signature look is polka dots. Want to see a few more examples of the student's pumpkins? 3rd Grade Celebrates Teddy Bears

Did you know this past Monday was National Teddy Bear Day? In third grade, students celebrated by bringing in their favorite teddy bear (along with other animals!) to share a snack of Teddy Grahams and listen in on a story about our favorite celebrity teddy bear - Winnie the Pooh!

What Can You Do With a Box?

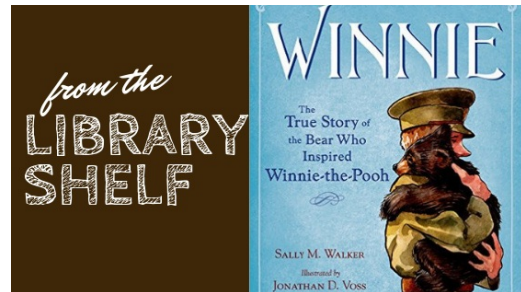

In second and third grade, students were challenged to figure out "what they could do with a box," as an introduction to the school's makerspace. Makerspaces are places where students can come with an idea and leave with a project. It's a way to generate creativity and critical thinking. We can't wait to see what these students do throughout the year!

From the Library Shelf

Monday was National Teddy Bear Day, and the library thinks you should celebrate by reading a story about everyone's favorite bear! Winnie: The True Story of the Bear Who Inspired Winnie-the-Pooh by Sally Walker is a fascinating tale about just how Winnie the Pooh came about. Read it today if you adore the sweet bear from The Hundred Acre Wood, Pooh!
